"We have worked mainly with international companies and as a result have been able to build a strong reputation across a number of countries in Europe, as well as in Libya itself. By joining Grant Thornton we hope to be able to position ourselves to capitalise on the expected influx of investment and build on our strong reputation so we are recognised as a real alternative to the Big 4."

How we work

We believe there is no one-size-fits-all solution in business. Each client is unique and we can respond to clients' needs only if we understand their particular perspectives.

Our real appreciation of the concerns and goals that drive our clients helps us achieve a sustainable working relationship based on mutual respect and integrity. We are committed to assist our clients to realise their business ambitions.

We ensure our clients have direct access to partners and senior staff, and we keep clients abreast with key business developments and news as it happens. Our commitment to clients also flows through to the relationship we build with our people. We are committed to their career and personal development, and support them to realise their full potential. We constantly focus on attracting more talent and on retaining it to ensure consistency for our clients.

Our investment in the infrastructure of the business is stronger than ever, both on national and international levels. We are large enough to take on the most demanding or specialist business, but operate in a flexible way which allows us to offer bespoke services to respond to our clients' needs.
